

Vocation Art Productions

Classical Guitar Periods and Musicians

Renaissance of the period (1536 - 1637)

Francesco da Milano (1497 - 1543).

Born in Monsa, virtuoso and composer.

Adrian le Roy (1520 - 1598).

French guitarist, lutenist, singer, editor and composer.

Jean Baptiste Besard (1567 – 1625).

French lutenist, lawyer, doctor and composer.

Thomas Robinson (1603).

The Schoole of Musicke (London, 1603).

Hans Neusiedler (1508 – 1563).

German lutenist and composer.

Michael Praetorius (1571 – 1621).

German composer and organist.

Vicenzo Galilei (1520 – 1591).

Italian lutenist and composer.

Alonso Mudarra (1510 – 1580).

Spanish vihuelist, guitarist and composer.

Baroque of the period (1670 – 1750)

Francesco Corbetta (1620 – 1681).

Guitarist and Italian composer.

Domenico Scarlatti (1685 – 1757).

Son of the Italian composer.

Gaspar Sans (1640 -1710).

Guitarist, organist and Spanish composer.

Jean Philippe Rameau (1683 – 1764).

French organist, harpsichordist and composer.

Giuseppe Antonio Brescianello (1690 – 1757).

Composer born in Bologna.

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685 – 1750).

Cantor and organists.

Robert de Viseé (1660 – 1720).

French lutist, theorbist, guitarist and composer.

Classical of the period (1750 –1840)

Niccolò Paganini (1782 – 1840).

Virtuoso violinist and guitarist.

Mauro Giuliani (1781 – 1829).

Italian guitarist and composer.

Ferdinando Carulli (1770 – 1841).

Born in Naples, Italian guitarist, pedagogue and composer.

Fernando Sor (1778 – 1839).

Spanish guitarist, singer and composer.

Matteo Albénis (1755 – 1831).

Spanish harpsichordist and composer.

Matteo Carcassi (1792 – 1853).

Italian guitarist and composer.

Domenico Cimarosa (1749 – 1801).

Italian composer.

Antonio Nava (1775 – 1821).

Italian guitarist, singer and composer.

Romantic of the period (1840 – 1920)

Johann Kaspar Mertz (1806 – 1856).

The Austrian guitarist, flautist and composer.

Robert Schumann (1810 – 1856).

The German pianist and composer.

Isaac Albénis (1860 – 1909).

Spanish pianist and composer.

Francisco Tárrega (1852 – 1909).

Spanish pianist, guitarist, composer.

Enrique Granados (1867 – 1916).

Spanish pianist and composer.

Julián Arcas (1832 – 1882).

Spanish guitarist and composer.

Napoléon Coste (1805 – 1883).

French guitarist and composer.

Modern of the period (1900 – 1950)

Luigi Mozzani (1869 – 1943).

Guitarist, violinmaker and Italian composer.

Joaquim Malats (1872 – 1912).
Born in Barcelona, Catalan composer.
Claude Debussy (1862 – 1918).
French pianist and composer.

